INTRODUCTION

The volume herewith presented constitutes R. L. Polk & Co.'s San Jose and Santa Clara County Directory omitting Palo Alto. The publishers have endeavored to produce a volume combining all that is vital to the civic, social and industrial life and activity of San Jose.

A careful enumeration of the citizens and business interests of the community and a compilation of the result by trained employees assures as correct and reliable a work of its character as is possible to be produced. The publishers have an organization solely devoted to the publication of directories, and their methods and resources are unrivalled. Their imprint on the hundreds of directories published for cities throughout the country attests the quality and reliability of their product. Directories are an essential and indispensable means of references and an index to what is in a community. They portray it as it actually is and they are the only means whereby its various features can be learned by the general public throughout the country.

The several essential departments of the Directory are set forth in the order following:

THE MISCELLANEOUS DEPARTMENT, pages 13 to 19, include data concerning city and county officials, churches, clubs, associations, schools, societies, secret and benevolent societies, etc.

THE BUYERS' GUIDE, pages 29 to 76, contains the advertisements of the leading and progressive business men and concerns alphabetically arranged under headings adapted to the class of business conducted. This feature is printed on tinted paper.

THE ALPHABETICAL LIST OF NAMES OF CITIZENS, business firms and corporations is embraced in pages 77 to 475.

THE STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE AND DIRECTORY OF HOUSEHOLDERS extends from pages 477 to 609.

THE CLASSIFIED BUSINESS DIRECTORY is included in pages 637 to 722, and shows the various manufacturing, mercantile and professional occupations, compiled under headings appropriate to the class of business pursued. This department will be appreciated as a special trade directory. The directory is the common intermediary between buyer and seller.

SAN JOSE

The Central City of the Famous Santa Clara Valley

AN JOSE, California, the oldest Pueblo in California, founded November 29, 1777, now a modern city of approximately 75,000 population, is the county seat of Santa Clara County. It is located 47 miles southerly from San Francisco and 6 miles from the southern arm of San Francisco Bay, and it occupies the position of central city of the greatest fruit canning and dried fruit packing center in the world. It is one of the four largest cities in the Bay district, and as it lies within the San Francisco metropolitan area, it shares with those cities the opportunities for expansion and development that exist in the Bay region, in addition to its own special local advantages.

San Jose has been built up from the native resources of Santa Clara Valley, practically all of which is comprised within the county lines. There are in the county 1328 square miles, or approximately 850,000 acres, of which 130,561 acres are in orchards, vineyards and berries; in canning and other vegetables, 20,000 acres; in cereals, 62,000 acres; in seed farms, 2000 acres; poultry, beef cattle, thoroughbred cattle, thoroughbred horses, dairy and general farms are numerous; there are many fruit and flower nurseries in the valley, the largest rose nursery on the coast being located near San Jose; for half a century cheese has been an important product of the Gilroy section; and in minerals, vast quantities of quicksilver, manganese and magnesite are exported; a practically inexhaustible deposit of fertilizing material several miles south of San Jose is being worked commercially on a large scale, and the county has an abundant supply of brick clay and of suitable quarries for road construction. The mountain range on the west side of the valley is well timbered with second-growth redwood, oak, madrono and other kinds of trees, and there are many oaks and pines in the Mt. Hamilton range on the east. The valley is 60 miles in length and it has an average width of 20 miles.

Santa Clara Valley has an equable climate, free from extremes of cold or heat: The normal mean annual temperature at San Jose, covering a period of 14 years, as officially reported by E. S. Nichols, local meteorologist, U. S. Weather Bureau, was 57.3 degrees; mean maximum, 68.1; mean minimum, 45.1; precipitation, 16.79 inches; relative humidity, 58; wind (velocity in miles per hour), 5.7; sunshine (per cent of possible duration), 72; clear, 220 days; partly cloudy, 76 days; cloudy with rain (of an inch or more), 63 days; maximum temperature, 90 degrees or above, 12 days; minimum temperature, 32 or below, 17 days. The number of days with a maximum temperature above 90 degrees are very few, and there as also a very few with minima below 32. The equable climate is explained by the modifying influences during the summer months of the valley's eastern range, which protects it from the heat of the interior, and of the Pacific Ocean, which lies only a short distance to the west, the cooling breezes of which, modified by the intervention of the Santa Cruz range, prevail throughout the valley during that season of the year; while the cold of winter is greatly tempered by the San Francisco Bay, which reaches into the northern portion of the valley, and the Santa Cruz Mountains, standing as a barrier to the ocean fogs and high winds.

Horticulture is the leading industry in the valley, and it is doubtful if there is a section of similar area in all the world that produces so many kinds or so vast a quantity of fruits. The normal prune crop alone ranges from 90,000,000 to 120,000,000 pounds dried, while the 19,000 acres in apricots, the 7000 in pears, an equal acreage in peaches, 5000 in cherries, and several thousands in plums, apples and other fruits, enormously swell the fruit production; of grapes there are 12,000 acres, and of walnuts nearly 6000 acres. The valley produces about 42 per cent of the State's prune crop and about 50 per cent of the State's dried apricot production.

Of the 40 fruit canneries in Santa Clara County 23 are located in San Jose, and of the 30 dried fruit packing houses, one-half are in this city. During the peak of the season from 15,000 to 20,000 men and women are engaged in the canneries and packing houses and in the many drying grounds. The county pack of canned fruits, berries and vegetables averages annually more than 3,000,000 cases of two dozen quart cans per case, or a total of 72,000,000 cans, and at 20 tons per carload approximately 4000 cars are required to load the pack. One can company in this city has a capacity of half a million cans per day, and a large quantity is manufactured by a second local company. Another local fruit product is jams, jellies and fruit juices, which find markets in all parts of the United States. The largest manufacturing in the United States of orchard and fruit handling machinery, irrigation pumps and engines, orchard sprayers and cannery equipment are located in San Jose. In city and county there are about 350 factories, large and small, of numerous kinds. San Jose is served by the Southern Pacific and the Western Pacific railroads; electric lines traverse a large section of the valley, and the leading streets of San Jose; auto stages and trucks run from San Jose to all parts of the State, and Alviso and South Port, near Sunnyvale, provide water transportation for many products.

San Jose has been steadily growing, for several years past, in population and in business. It has overgrown its official municipal lines on all sides, and the construction of residences, business blocks and other structure gives no indication of lessening. Practically one-fifth of the city as a whole lies outside these lines. Within the lines, building permits, which in 1919 were $1,066,051, have increased year by year. In 1922 they were $1,967,720; in 1923, $2,737,290; in 1924, $3,958,390; in 1925, $4,857,773, and in 1926, $4,379,475.

Bank clearings have shown a similar increase. In 1920 they were $116,995,085. They have steadily increased year by year, and the total for 1926 was $158,055,163.

The facilities for education provided by San Jose and Santa Clara County are prominent factors in attracting students and families here from all parts of the country. In this city are the State Teachers College, High School, two Junior High Schools, nine grammar schools, two secretarial schools and a number of Catholic schools; at Santa Clara is the University of Santa Clara, and at Palo Alto is Stanford University; there are two military schools in the county and several private schools; nine high schools, 71 grammar schools, 11 kindergartens, and several evening schools; Lick Observatory, at the summit of Mt. Hamilton, near San Jose, is under the control and supervision of the University of California. San Jose has a fine public library, and the County Library is located in this city.

No part of California offers more attractions for the tourist than Santa Clara Valley. The State highway, coast route, from San Francisco to Los Angeles runs the entire length of the valley, and a paved highway connects with the route south through the San Joaquin Valley and the route north and east through Stockton and Sacramento; a branch of the State highway connects Oakland and San Jose, and another, one of the most picturesque drives in the State, places this city within an hour and a half of Santa Cruz, Capitola and other coast resorts. From San Jose paved roads radiate in all directions throughout the valley, foothills, mountains and forests. The State Redwood Park of 10,000 acres lies just over the western summit, in Santa Cruz County; and at the highest point in the Mt. Hamilton range, east of San Jose, is the famous Lick Observatory, reached by a winding road through ever changing scenery. Alum Rock Park, with its many mineral springs, natatorium and plunge, seven miles from the city, in the eastern foothills, is reached both by electric line and a fine paved road. The San Jose Country Club has a club house and attractive golf course in the same foothills, overlooking the valley; the Commercial Club is constructing another, a few miles from Evergreen, and there are several other golf courses in the county. San Jose is provided with four first-class hotels, and several others, small but excellent. The city has seven theatres. All church denominations, benevolent societies, civic, service and women's clubs, are represented here, and the city is pre-eminently one of attractive homes.

Because of its equable climate, scenic attractions, varied fruit productions, and many other desirable features, Santa Clara Valley is known as "The Valley of Heart's Delight." To the home seeker and to the investor it offers pleasant living and satisfactory returns, and to the tourist delightful trips and enjoyable experiences that will linger long in memory.

Directory and Reference Media

THE reference medium or directory, whether it is a city directory, state gazetteer or a business directory, ties up closely with other forms of advertising. It is distinguished from the creative style of advertising in that it is passive while the buyer is active. On the other hand, the creative advertising in newspapers, magazines, trade papers, etc., is active while the buyer is passive.

Both are necessary in a well-rounded campaign. The function of creative advertising is to make people want what they did not want before, and to educate them to the point where they are conscious of that want. Reference advertising is an aid at the critical time when the initiative has passed from the seller to the buyer; when the desire to buy is strong, and the question is whether the prospect will buy the advertised article, another brand, or cool off altogether while waiting for the "catalog and name of nearest dealer." If the advertisement which suggested the want can be supplemented by another directing the prospect to the place where he can see the goods, the efficiency of the entire advertising expenditure will be greatly increased.

The directory has a 100 per cent prospect circulation inasmuch as its very nature makes it sell only where it will be used. Its circulation is not so much gauged by the number of copies sold as by the number of people who consult it. There are directory libraries maintained throughout the country for reference purposes, and in them may be found all the most important directories published. Surprise is often expressed by librarians at the number of people who are constantly consulting these sources of information.

There are many kinds of directories and "catalogs," each covering some trade, or locality, or group interest, in which organized information may be found that is useful to the buyer. In every buying center the local directory presents a medium of universal accessibility. For over a hundred years people have been accustomed to refer to it as a logical place to find certain kinds of information. A system of exchange enables each publisher to offer free access to a file of the latest issues of directories from all over the country. This gives every local advertisement a nation-wide accessibility.

The long life of a directory advertisement is a strong point in its favor. It has an existence of 365 days and sometimes twice that, depending on the frequency of issue. It is always kept where it can be found by the buyer when he wants it.

It has a strong appeal for institutional advertising, as reputable publications give prestige to the advertisers who patronize them. It is a significant fact that from 80 to 90 per cent of the advertising in these publications is renewed year after year.

Modern Retail Merchandising

GUESSESno longer pay!

IN the "good old days," when all merchandising was largely guesswork, a good guesser could acquire a fortune and a reputation for wisdom.

Merchants guessed they'd take such-and-such a bill of goods from the drummer; they guessed what their customers would buy; they guessed how much stock they had on hand; they often guessed at what they'd taken in and paid out during the day.

Guessing is a fair gamble when everybody's doing it—but the guesser hasn't a chance when he bets against competitors who put their money on known facts.

And the most successful retailing today is being conducted on the basis of known facts and principles in every phase of store management and merchandising.

Modern Merchandising

With the cooperation of the leading authorities in every field of retailing, the Alexander Hamilton Institute has now assembled these fundamental facts and principles in its new Course and Service under the general title of "Modern Merchandising." The Texts are clear and free from difficulties. The Lectures, Guides and Reports deal with everyday problems faced by store owners and executives, and indicate solutions with the "guess gamble" eliminated.

"Progress and Profits"

Every man ambitious for success in retailing—every owner, every executive, every buyer, every department head—all the men who must think and decide—will find sound guidance here.

Learn about this new Course. Send for a copy of the book, "Progress and Profits," which tells about it in detail. The book is free. Write at once, or to save time, telephone our Mr. Coyle at Ballard 1639-J.

ALEXANDER HAMILTON INSTITUTE

Among the authors of the Texts, Written Lectures, Modern Merchandising Reports and other material, are the following men:

DR. PAUL H. NYSTROM, Director of the Associated Merchandising Corporation; DR. LEE GALLOWAY, First Director of the School of Retailing, New York University, a well-known authority on store management; EDGAR J. KAUFMANN, President of Kaufmann Department Stores, Pittsburgh; J. C. PENNEY, Chairman of the Board, J. C. Penney Company; JOSEPH CHAPMAN, President, L. S. Donaldson Company, Minneapolis; PERCY H. JOHNSTON, President, Chemical National Bank of New York; JOHN BLOCK, Kirby, Block & Fischer, Resident Buyers; AMOS PARRISH, Director, Amos Parrish & Company, Store Counselors; COL. DAVID MAY, Chairman of the Board, May Department Stores; CLAYTON POTTER, President, United States Stores; W. T. GRANT, Chairman of the Board, W. T. Grant Company; WILLIAM N. TAFT, Editor, Retail Ledger; JOSEPH HUSSON, President, Eleto Company, New York—and many others.

In San Jose we are represented by

Directory and Reference Media

THE reference medium or directory, whether it is a city directory, state gazetteer or a business directory, ties up closely with other forms of advertising. It is distinguished from the creative style of advertising in that it is passive while the buyer is active. On the other hand, the creative advertising in newspapers, magazines, trade papers, etc., is active while the buyer is passive.

Both are necessary in a well-rounded campaign. The function of creative advertising is to make people want what they did not want before, and to educate them to the point where they are conscious of that want. Reference advertising is an aid at the critical time when the initiative has passed from the seller to the buyer; when the desire to buy is strong, and the question is whether the prospect will buy the advertised article, another brand, or cool off altogether while waiting for the "catalog and name of nearest dealer." If the advertisement which suggested the want can be supplemented by another directing the prospect to the place where he can see the goods, the efficiency of the entire advertising expenditure will be greatly increased.

The directory has a 100 per cent prospect circulation inasmuch as its very nature makes it sell only where it will be used. Its circulation is not so much gauged by the number of copies sold as by the number of people who consult it. There are directory libraries maintained throughout the country for reference purposes, and in them may be found all the most important directories published. Surprise is often expressed by librarians at the number of people who are constantly consulting these sources of information.

There are many kinds of directories and "catalogs," each covering some trade, or locality, or group interest, in which organized information may be found that is useful to the buyer. In every buying center the local directory presents a medium of universal accessibility. For over a hundred years people have been accustomed to refer to it as a logical place to find certain kinds of information. A system of exchange enables each publisher to offer free access to a file of the latest issues of directories from all over the country. This gives every local advertisement a nation-wide accessibility.

The long life of a directory advertisement is a strong point in its favor. It has an existence of 365 days and sometimes twice that, depending on the frequency of issue. It is always kept where it can be found by the buyer when he wants it.

It has a strong appeal for institutional advertising, as reputable publications give prestige to the advertisers who patronize them. It is a significant fact that from 80 to 90 per cent of the advertising in these publications is renewed year after year.

ONE OF 200 POLK DIRECTORY LIBRARIES

This Little Library Can Answer 945,000,000 Questions

MANY TRIPS AT YOUR FINGER-TIPS —
SAVE MANY MILES, MINUTES and DOLLARS

There are over 300 of these directory libraries in the United States. They are installed and maintained by the Association of North American Directory Publishers as part of the service given to directory advertisers.

Think what this means to you in effort, time and money saved. You want to know the relationship of the signer of a letter to the firm he represents—the directory library has the answer; someone you vitally need to get in touch with in a distant city has moved; business addresses or firm names have changed—the directory library has the answer. Public officials have been replaced by new elections; location of real estate is desired—again the directory library holds the answer.

Of course you could write or phone for the data you desire, but maybe you don't know just who to approach—the directory library has the answer.

This service is free, for single reference, to the public.

Directory and Reference Media

THE reference medium or directory, whether it is a city directory, state gazetteer or a business directory, ties up closely with other forms of advertising. It is distinguished from the creative style of advertising in that it is passive while the buyer is active. On the other hand, the creative advertising in newspapers, magazines, trade papers, etc., is active while the buyer is passive.

Both are necessary in a well-rounded campaign. The function of creative advertising is to make people want what they did not want before, and to educate them to the point where they are conscious of that want. Reference advertising is an aid at the critical time when the initiative has passed from the seller to the buyer; when the desire to buy is strong, and the question is whether the prospect will buy the advertised article, another brand, or cool off altogether while waiting for the "catalog and name of nearest dealer." If the advertisement which suggested the want can be supplemented by another directing the prospect to the place where he can see the goods, the efficiency of the entire advertising expenditure will be greatly increased.

The directory has a 100 per cent prospect circulation inasmuch as its very nature makes it sell only where it will be used. Its circulation is not so much gauged by the number of copies sold as by the number of people who consult it. There are directory libraries maintained throughout the country for reference purposes, and in them may be found all the most important directories published. Surprise is often expressed by librarians at the number of people who are constantly consulting these sources of information.

There are many kinds of directories and "catalogs," each covering some trade, or locality, or group interest, in which organized information may be found that is useful to the buyer. In every buying center the local directory presents a medium of universal accessibility. For over a hundred years people have been accustomed to refer to it as a logical place to find certain kinds of information. A system of exchange enables each publisher to offer free access to a file of the latest issues of directories from all over the country. This gives every local advertisement a nation-wide accessibility.

The long life of a directory advertisement is a strong point in its favor. It has an existence of 365 days and sometimes twice that, depending on the frequency of issue. It is always kept where it can be found by the buyer when he wants it.

It has a strong appeal for institutional advertising, as reputable publications give prestige to the advertisers who patronize them. It is a significant fact that from 80 to 90 per cent of the advertising in these publications is renewed year after year.

Directory and Reference Media

THE reference medium or directory, whether it is a city directory, state gazetteer or a business directory, ties up closely with other forms of advertising. It is distinguished from the creative style of advertising in that it is passive while the buyer is active. On the other hand, the creative advertising in newspapers, magazines, trade papers, etc., is active while the buyer is passive.

Both are necessary in a well-rounded campaign. The function of creative advertising is to make people want what they did not want before, and to educate them to the point where they are conscious of that want. Reference advertising is an aid at the critical time when the initiative has passed from the seller to the buyer; when the desire to buy is strong, and the question is whether the prospect will buy the advertised article, another brand, or cool off altogether while waiting for the "catalog and name of nearest dealer." If the advertisement which suggested the want can be supplemented by another directing the prospect to the place where he can see the goods, the efficiency of the entire advertising expenditure will be greatly increased.

The directory has a 100 per cent prospect circulation inasmuch as its very nature makes it sell only where it will be used. Its circulation is not so much gauged by the number of copies sold as by the number of people who consult it. There are directory libraries maintained throughout the country for reference purposes, and in them may be found all the most important directories published. Surprise is often expressed by librarians at the number of people who are constantly consulting these sources of information.

There are many kinds of directories and "catalogs," each covering some trade, or locality, or group interest, in which organized information may be found that is useful to the buyer. In every buying center the local directory presents a medium of universal accessibility. For over a hundred years people have been accustomed to refer to it as a logical place to find certain kinds of information. A system of exchange enables each publisher to offer free access to a file of the latest issues of directories from all over the country. This gives every local advertisement a nation-wide accessibility.

The long life of a directory advertisement is a strong point in its favor. It has an existence of 365 days and sometimes twice that, depending on the frequency of issue. It is always kept where it can be found by the buyer when he wants it.

It has a strong appeal for institutional advertising, as reputable publications give prestige to the advertisers who patronize them. It is a significant fact that from 80 to 90 per cent of the advertising in these publications is renewed year after year.
